PREFACE

Crawford County is located in central Georgia. It was created as the fifty-fifth county by the state legislature in 1822. The county was formed from the northwest portion of Houston County which had previously been created from Creek Indian land in 1821 using the land lottery system. Crawford County in 1824 lost a large part of it's western portion when Upson County was formed. It later received small additions from Talbot and Macon counties. Since then the boundaries have remained mostly unchanged and to-day encompass an area of 313 square miles.

The county was named for William H. Crawford, a Georgian who was serving as U. S. Secretary of the Treasury in 1822. He was a jurist and a diplomat, and very nearly President of the United States.

Knoxville, the county seat, was named for General Henry Knox of Revolutionary War fame. The courthouse that was first built there, burned in February 1830. The early marriage records somehow survived the fire. In the early years, Knoxville was the hub of business and county activity. When the railroad was built within one mile of Knoxville, a station called Roberta was established which soon drew the business trade to that location. To-day Roberta is the largest county town.

Joanna Troutman is probably the most noted native of Crawford County. A monument to her stands on the courthouse square. She designed, made, and presented a flag to a group of middle Georgia volunteers en route to Texas to help fight for its independance from Mexico in 1833. With a reverse color change her "Lone Star Flag" was later adopted as the official state flag by the State of Texas.

Although the county lies, within commuting distance of large job markets in Macon and Warner Robins, it's industry remains primarly agriculture. It leads the state in the number of peach trees and to-geather with pecans, they account for 60% of all farm income.

The county population in 1830 was 5314 and rose to 8855 by 1850. The county lay along the Macon and Montgomery Trail of the Creek Indians and as this and other trails turned into roads, emigerants poured into the county. The estate records herein show that many came from east Georgia counties and the Carolinas, but many also moved on to new counties and states to the west.

This publication is the third of seven we have planned for Crawford County. It is the second covering estate records and contains Annual Returns Books C, D, E, F, & G covering the period Jan.1838 through Aug.1854. There is no record that Books A & B ever existed. In fact Annual Returns prior to Jan.1838 were included in Inventory Appraisement Sales & Vouchers Book "B" 1833-1837 which we published in Miscelleneous Estate Records of Crawford County, GA and which was released in Jan.1989. In this publication as well as the Miscellaneous Estate Records publication we have, with considerable effort and where possible, placed each entry under the name of the deceased. We believe this method to be of tremendous value to researchers particularly since many county probate records when indexed are done so under the name of an Executor, Administrator, Guardian, etc., who in many cases has a surname different from the name of the testate or intestate being researched.

We wish to express our graditude to the trustees of the R. J. TAYLOR, Jr., Foundation who awarded our Society a grant to assist in the various non-labor costs of compiling this publication and the printing costs. The Foundation also absorbed the expense for printing thirty additional copies which they will distribute to various libraries within the United States.

Members are encourage to submit ARTICLES FOR PUBLICATION in the QUARTERLY, and extra long articles may be serialized. The QUARTERLY is not copyrighted and anyone is welcome to make proper use of the contents; however, the use of articles quoted from other published sources is prohibited without permission from the copyright holder.
